[illegible]ington, June 15.—Yesterday was [illegible]sterment in the house. Less than [illegible]ngth of the Indian bill were cov[illegible] there was a great amount of dis[illegible]. The sensational event of the day [illegible]ersonal controversy between Mr. [illegible], of Indiana, and Mr. Maddox, of [illegible]. The row between the Indiana[illegible]rgia representatives occurred in [illegible] before the speaker's desk, on the [illegible]ocratic side, but before a blow was [illegible] the belligerent members were sep[illegible] by deputy sergeants-at-arms, and [illegible]tlemanly blow even. The day was [illegible]rked by a bitter personal attack [illegible] Holman by Mr. Johnson, which [illegible]man received in silence. The sec[illegible]hehood question also came up, but [illegible] omitting any ill feeling.

[illegible] yesterday eight hours were spent [illegible]ral debate in the senate upon [illegible]osition to place raw wool on the [illegible] without reaching a vote. The[illegible] participated were Messrs. Lodge, [illegible]ham, Higgins, Chandler and Dolph. [illegible]ere no unusual incidents. During [illegible] Mr. Harris, the floor manager of [illegible]ff bill, reached an agreement with [illegible] Aldrich, who is managing the op[illegible] for the Republicans, to take a [illegible] the free wool proposition before [illegible]ement, but when a debate came [illegible]y and Mr. Dolph refused to accept [illegible] agreement, and after a slight [illegible]t at filibustering Mr. Harris con[illegible] to yield to an adjournment, it be[illegible] generally spoken expressed by the [illegible]ican leaders that a vote could be [illegible] today, although no formal agree[illegible]ts made. In case a vote is not had [illegible]efore Mr. Harris intend that [illegible] hold two sessions tonight until a [illegible] is reached.

LEAMINGTON, June 15.—Right Hon. John Duke Coleridge, lord chief justice of the queen's bench, died at his residence here last night. Lord Coleridge was unconscious for a few hours before his death, which was painless. His son Bernard will succeed him in the peerage.

It is announced that Baron Russell will succeed Lord Coleridge as lord chief justice, and that Sir John Rigby will become a lord justice of appeal in place of Baron Russell. Robert T. Reid, now solicitor general, will become attorney general, and Richard B. Haldane, M. P., solicitor general.

The Right Hon. John Duke Coleridge, P. C., D. C. L., was up to the time of his death an honorary fellow of Exeter college, Oxford. He was the eldest son of the late Right Hon. Sir John Taylor Coleridge, his mother's maiden name being Mary Buchanan. She was the daughter of a clergyman.

Lord Coleridge was born in 1821. His early education was obtained at Eton, from whence he went to Exeter college, Oxford, where he graduated in his 24th year, and was then elected to an open fellowship in Exeter college, which honor he held up to the time of his marriage.

Throughout the latter portion of his life Lord Coleridge filled more or less important public offices. He was appointed to his last office, that of lord chief justice of England, in 1880, on the death of his predecessor, Sir Alexander Cockburn. Lord Coleridge was a frequent contributor to various periodicals, and his articles were [illegible]. He was twice married, the last time being in 1846, when he was 25 years of age.

The Hon. Bernard John Seymour Coleridge, who succeeds the deceased as [illegible] division of Sheffield in the house of commons, is the eldest son of the deceased.

Robert Bonner went to the New York Herald one day and asked the business manager, Mr Elliott, if he could have a page of The Herald for next morning. Mr. Elliott said, "Certainly, two if you like." "Then I'll take four," said Mr. Bonner. "All right. You can have four." "Then I'll take eight," was the mother's voice sounded clear on the night from the head of the stairs.

The youth stopped short, but held on.

"Mary," came the maternal voice querulously, "is that young man there yet?"

"Not yet, mother," replied Mary, smiling sweetly down on the face of her Romeo, "but he's getting there."

And two weeks later the cards were out.

"He has been dead for several years," replied the student.

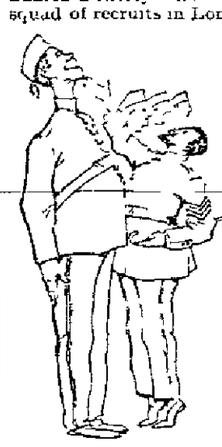
This terminated the interview and Dr McCosh had secured his mail from the post-office and had met the same freshmen returning from the library.

"I know you. I know you, and how are you, and what is your name?" The information was given.

"How is your father?"

"Still dead sir," replied the freshman.

It is said to be an old story this of a man named Doherty who was drilling with his squad of recruits in London. Doherty was 6 feet 2 in height and at that time the sergeant major was a man whose height was only 5 feet 4. On this day he approached the squad looking sharply about him for some fault to find.



All the men squared up except Doherty and the sergeant major at once accosted him.

"Head up there man!" called he. Doherty raised his head slightly.

"Up higher, sir!"

The head was raised again. Then the sergeant major managed, by standing on his toes to reach Doherty's chin, and he poked it higher, with the remark.

"That's better. Don't let me see your head down again."

By this time everybody was interested at seeing Doherty staring away above the sergeant major's head when a voice from above said in a rich brogue

"Am I always to be like this, sergeant major?"

"Yes, sir."

"Then I'll say goodby to ye, sergeant major, for I'll never see ye again."

WHAT OUR NEIGHBORS IN SULLIVAN COUNTY ARE DOING.

All the News from All Parts of the County—Many Matters of Interest Condensed from Our Sullivan Exchanges and Contributed by Wide-Awake Correspondents.

—The Livingston Manor Driving Club has offered a purse of $30 for running horses and $70 for a free-for-all trot on July 4th.

—The Ensign says that within three months, nearly $1,000 has been spent in improvements to the addition recently purchased for Sherwood's Island Park, at Livingston Manor. Drives have been laid out, dams and bridges built and land has been cleared and seeded. The park is now one of the finest picnic resorts to be found anywhere.

—Miss Anna Dunning, of Middletown, is at the Manor House for the summer.—Livingston Manor Ensign.

—H. M. Hayes, one of the proprietors of the Middletown tannery, F. M. Madden, one of the proprietors of the Middletown file works, H. Felton and Floyd Buck, all of Middletown, were at the Manor House, Monday. They are now stopping with Matt. Cooper, at DeBruce.—Ensign.

—Miss Anna Preston, of Middletown, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Cox, of this town.—Deckertown Independent.

—Peter Andrus, an old and respected resident of Beechwoods, died Monday, aged eighty-two years.

—T. A. Cook, who owns a creamery at Callicoon Depot, has arranged with the farmers from whom he buys milk to have them retain one day's milk each week, and for this concession he pays them a quarter of a cent more than other creamerymen, or one and a half cents all around. Mr. Cook gets rid of any surplus in this way, and it is a mutually profitable and satisfactory arrangement.

An Old Man's Long Walk.

From the Livingston Manor Ensign.

Recently Thomas Davidson, of Rockland, visited his daughter, Mrs W. B Woodburn, in Walton. Mr. Davidson always has been a great walker, preferring to go from place to place on foot rather than by team or even on the cars. He has not outgrown his pedesterian ability although seventy-four years old, as was proved by his walking from Walton to Rockland, a distance of twenty-three miles, in less than nine hours. He crossed two mountains in the journey.

How to Swing a Hammock.

As the season for hammocks is at hand it may be of use to know that a great deal of the comfort in those articles depends on hanging them properly. A hammock swung according to rule should be six and a quarter feet from the ground at the head and three and three-quarters above the ground at the foot end. The rope that secures the head end should be less than twelve inches; that at the foot end should measure four and a half feet. Arranged in this way the lower part will swing freely and the head be kept comfortably by being stationed nearly stationary.

Eloped from Honesdale

Miss Flo Keeler, daughter of Benjamin Keeler, of Honesdale, and Richard Matchett, of Pittsburg, a box-maker in Wooden & Blakney's box factory in that village, eloped last week, driving to Hancock and taking Erie train 1 to Buffalo. The reason for the elopement was the fact that the girl's parents would not consent to the match, not being satisfied that Matchett, who was a stranger in Honesdale, was a single man.

A Little Girl Drowned.

While a little daughter of Solomon Gavlit was playing on the banks of Mill Brook in Ulster county, near the Cross Mountain school, Tuesday, she slid off a sloping rock into the brook, many feet below, and was drowned. The body was not found until four hours afterwards.

Some Foolish Mothers

Let their babies cry with Colic, giving mother no rest night or day. How foolish, when Dr. Hand's Colic Cure gives immediate relief to baby. It removes wind from the stomach, quiets the nerves and gives restful sleep. Mother, send to-day to your drug store for a 25c. bottle. Think of the weary hours it saves you. If baby's gums are sore, teething, use Dr. Hand's Teething Lotion. At all druggists, 25 cents.

A MYSTERY EXPLAINED.

Why Paterson's Fire Alarm Rang Morning and Evening.

From the Paterson Press,

For some time past there has been a mysterious ringing of the fire alarm bells in the morning and evening, and Superintendent Zeluff and his men have been trying to find the cause. Yesterday they stumbled over it accidentally. While in the Dexter, Lambert & Company's silk mill, examining the wire leading into the place, a window was shut down, and just then the taps were struck. Investigation showed that this was done morning and evening by the lowering of the window by the watchman, the sash weight coming in contact with the wire leading into the mill. The trouble has been remedied. The ringing of the bells baffled the electricians for some time, and they had been inspecting the wires throughout the city until it was found that the trouble lay somewhere in the Sandy Hill district.

"CONSCIENTIOUS SCRUPLES."

Many Jurors Who Didn't Want to Serve in the LaForge Murder Trial, Had Them.

From the Kingston Leader.

Gradually it dawned upon the jurors examined in the LaForge case that by replying in the affirmative to the District Attorney's first question, concerning conscientious scruples regarding capital punishment, they would be speedily excused. Several said they had conscientious scruples and then failed to explain what the phrase meant. There seemed to be a strong connection between conscientious scruples or a decided opinion (and corn that needed hoeing or strawberries that had to be picked, and everybody who had a pressing engagement of this kind had either scruples or an opinion. One man, when asked how long he had had scruples against capital punishment, frankly answered, "About two days."

Deckertown Condensery Affairs.

Most of the farmers supplying milk to the Deckertown condensery have assented to the reduction of half a cent a quart from the New York price for four months, demanded by the officers of the condensery, as a condition of continuing business. The annual report of the condensery showed that with a capitol of $25,000 it had expended $32,000 on its plant and that the profits on the year's business were but $680.

A Farmer's Rat Trap.

An exchange tells how a farmer tried a new way of catching rats. He took a keg and filled it half full of water, and placed cotton seed in the water, which floated on the surface. He then sprinkled meal on the top of the cotton seed and placed the keg in the barn. Next morning he emptied his keg of over a hundred drowned rats

The Pulley Rope Broke.

While raising the four-ton smoke stack, which is fifty-two feet high, at the silk mill, at Unionville, one of the pulley ropes broke, piling fifteen men on top of each other, dislocating the arm of one and cutting a severe gash in the forehead of another, and necessitating the services of a physician for both.—Port Jervis Gazette.

A Barn Burned by Lightning.

Lightning struck the barn of Thos. Moultrop, at Beechwoods, Sullivan county, Monday night of last week, and it burned to the ground. Fourteen sheep and lambs and a mowing machine were burned.

Mules Delirious With Pleasure.

"I saw an odd sight in Luzerne county," said Erkley B. Cove. "Six mules that had for four years hauled cars in the lower workings of a coal shaft to and from the foot of the shaft had to be brought up, owing to the flooding of the mine on account of fire The mules in all that time had seen no light stronger than the flicker of the little Davy lamps the miners carried. The sun was in its zenith when they reached the surface, and the atmosphere was as clear as crystal.

"The astonished creatures closed their eyes to shut out the flood of strong light and kept them closed while they were being driven to a pasture lot a mile distant and turned loose. There they stood trembling, as if they were afraid something evil was about to befall them. Presently they half opened their eyes and peered around in open mouthed amazement. It was clear they couldn't understand it.

"When they had become accustomed to the sunlight, they elevated their heads and slowly swept their gaze over calm piles, sky mountains and horizon again and again Toward sundown they broke into a chorus of joyous brays, the like of which was never heard from mules before.

"After a quarter of an hour of that music they took to kicking, jumping, whirling around like tee totums and rolling on the sod as if they had gone mad. For four days they spent their time gazing at the new sights of field and sky, refusing food and water, not even nibbling at the grass and not as much as blinking an eye in sleep."—Philadelphia Times.

THE ORIGIN OF FIRE.

Started by a Whale, According to the South Sea Islanders.

The South Sea Islanders tell a curious story of the origin of fire. If they are to be believed, they came into possession of that useful element in the following manner: A great whale was once washed ashore upon one of the islands during the prevalence of a terrible hurricane. The monster became entangled in a grove of tallow trees [illegible] evergreen [illegible]

WHY DON'T WE SELL AMERICAN MADE TOOTH BRUSHES? Because we don't know any such—genuine—the experiment has been tried but without success.
The best brush we can find is the CROWN TOOTH BRUSH—LONDON MADE. Why, we've sold them for twenty five years and are still selling them—and what a success they've been! We like goods of that kind which you can sell year after year and hold your trade.
Then for a cheaper tooth brush, we've some excellent Japanese-made brushes—clever people, those Japs!
McMonagle & Rogers, Druggists.

EVERYBODY WISHES GOOD TEETH—some people buy them. Other and more sensible people take good care of their own. They brush them freely with a suitable brush and use daily our IVORY TOOTH POWDER or IVORY TOOTH WASH, which sweeten the breath, make the teeth white and preserve them from decay.

THE TAX ELECTION.

The School House Appropriation Beaten—The Town Clocks Not to be Wound—The Other Items Voted.

The tax election at the Assembly Rooms, yesterday afternoon and evening, was conducted decently and in order and taxpayers had a free opportunity to give expression to their sentiments, whether for or against the several items.

The total vote poled was 220, not as large as some expected, but considerably larger than the vote of real taxpayers polled at any appropriation meeting in recent years, when they were conducted in the free and easy bedlam style.

The taxpayers sat down very heavily on the Board of Education item of $6,500 for an addition to the Liberty street building, the vote being nearly three to one against it. The town clock item was also knocked out by a small majority. All the other items were voted, though the majorities in their favor were not large.

The vote in detail follows:

THE BENTON AVENUE FIGHT.

More Affidavits Served Upon the Middletown-Goshen Traction Company.

Supplementary affidavits were, yesterday, served upon the officers of the Middletown Goshen Traction Company in behalf of the protesting residents of Benton avenue by Messrs. Finn and Marsh.

The Argus has been unable to obtain copies of the affidavits, but it is generally understood that they impugn the honesty and character of all the members of the Common Council, with the one exception of Alderman Greene, who voted against the franchise. Mr. Marsh's thirty page essay is said to be included in one of the affidavits, and in another great emphasis is laid upon the fact that "gag law" was applied to Mr. Finn in his effort to convince the Council that there were other and more desirable routes by which the electric road could make its exit from the city.

The outcome of the arguments which will, to-morrow, be presented at the hearing before Judge Dykman, at White Plains, is being watched with unusual interest by the citizens of Middletown, "99 out of 100" of whom hope that the injunction will be lifted.

BEFORE THE RECORDER.

Two Drunks Go Down for Ten Days Each—Reprimanded for Stealing a Ride.

John Smith, the colored veteran recently released from a ten days' sojourn at Goshen, returned there this morning to repeat the experience, he having been found, yesterday, in an intoxicated condition soliciting money on the street.

John Gregory, of Port Jervis, accompanied Smith and will be the guest of the sheriff for the same length of time, in lieu of paying a fine of three dollars, imposed by the Recorder. Gregory came to "see the circus" and "had a circus."

Two men were arrested for stealing a ride on the O. and W. milk train and were discharged with a reprimand.

A Raid on Tramps at Cornwall

Cornwall has been, for the last two weeks, overrun with tramps. Wednesday evening and Thursday morning Deputy Sheriff Walter Wood made raids and arrested twenty-one of them. They were all arraigned before Justice Talbott, Thursday morning, when twelve were discharged and nine sent to Albany Penitentiary for six months. Officer Wood was complimented for his work, having made all the arrests himself.

DYING AMONG STRANGERS

A Woman Stricken With Apoplexy in the Goshen Depot After Being Helped from a Train—"H. Duryea" on Her Pocket-Book, "E. Duryea" on a Letter.

When Erie train 11 reached Goshen at 12:48, this afternoon, the trainmen helped into the waiting room of the depot a well dressed woman, apparently about forty-eight years of age, who was evidently very sick. She was given a seat in the ladies room and a few minutes afterwards sank down in a state of complete unconsciousness. Dr. Hitchcock was at once summoned and he, after a hasty examination of the patient, discovered that she was suffering from the effects of a severe shock of apoplexy. She was at once removed to the St. Elmo Hotel and given every possible care and attention, but at last accounts she was still in an unconscious condition and Dr. Hitchcock thinks that she has scarcely a chance of recovering.

The unfortunate woman is not known to any of the residents of Goshen, who have seen her, nor was there anything in her possession that gave the slightest clue to whence she came or whither she was bound, nor was there anything showing where she lived or the address of any relatives or friends She was very well supplied with money.

On her pocket was the name "H. Duryea," written in ink, and on a letter in which money had been sent, was the name "E. Duryea," but no address of any kind.

It is hoped by this publication of the facts in the case that some of the woman's acquaintances or friends may learn of her condition.

SHOWED THEMSELVES INSANE.

State Hospital Patients Before Judge Guernsey on a Habeas Corpus Writ.

Three inmates of the Hudson River State Hospital appeared before Judge Guernsey at Poughkeepsie, on Wednesday morning, on habeas corpus proceedings instituted by O. P. Fradenburgh, a discharged patient.

Fradenburgh lives at Liberty, Sullivan county. He is a religious enthusiast and has written a book entitled "Saint Peter's Key to David's Throne," setting forth peculiar ideas which he claims to have received from the Lord in a revelation. In 1891 he was committed to the Hudson River State Hospital and was kept there eighteen months. Since his discharge, he has written a book entitled "I was kidnapped; or a year and a half in the H. R. S. Hospital," in which he scores a great many people inside and out of the hospital. The Enterprise says that while in the institution, Fradenburgh made the acquaintances of George Noonan, of Greenville, Washington county, Charles Hand, of New Lebanon, Columbia county, and August Vohlkosen, of New York city. He has always been satisfied that the three men are sane and illegally detained and on Tuesday he applied to Judge Guernsey for a writ of habeas corpus for the three men. The judge granted the writ and gave the men a hearing Thursday morning.

Hand said he knew he was insane and did not wish to be discharged until cured.

Vohlkosen shows he is what is known as a paranoiac. He was first taken into custody in Washington for writing threatening letters to President Cleveland during his first term, and other Washington officials. He thinks he is kept in the hospital by his brothers so they can get his pension.

Noonan also convinced the judge that he is insane and all three were sent back to the hospital.

Preparing for the Brick Paving.

Orr Brothers have proved themselves to be hustlers in the matter of street work. They started, yesterday afternoon, with a plow and six horses to tear up North street between Cortland street and Wickham avenue. Mr. D. Sayer has set up a stone crusher on Mr. J. D. Rockafellow's lot and will furnish the crushed stone for the work.

A Vagrant Dies in the Newburgh Jail.

J. Walsh, one of the men arrested in New Windsor, Wednesday, by Under Sheriff Alexander, and who had been sentenced to ninety days in the county jail by Justice Cushing, of Vail's Gate, on the charge of vagrancy, died in the Newburgh cells, yesterday afternoon. A rumor having gone abroad that the man poisoned himself Coroner Corwin ordered an autopsy.

A Runaway Boy Found

Henry Lang, of New York, twelve years of age, took $103 belonging to his father, Friday, and left home. He was found at Narrowsburgh, Wednesday, and taken home. He had $19, but a revolver showed how part of the money had been spent. The lad went to Narrowsburgh because he had spent last summer there with his parents.

The Ladies.

INCIDENTS AND HAPPENINGS IN GOSHEN.

The Prize Speaking Contest—Dikeman's Festival and Hop—To-night's Entertainment—Meeting of Village Improvement Society Executive Committee—The Circus.

From our regular correspondent.

—The judges in the prize speaking contest at the commencement exercises of the Goshen High School, Monday night, will be Mr. Chas. G. Elliott, Prof. Goldthwaite and Mr. J. B. Sweezy.

—Dikeman Hose Company will hold a festival and social hop, at Music Hall, Thursday evening, June 21st. A vocal and instrumental concert will also be given, during the evening.

—Don't forget the entertainment and festival at the M. E. Church parlors, this evening.

—A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Goshen Village Improvement Society will be held in the Surrogate's office, to-morrow, (Saturday) afternoon, at 4 o'clock. A full attendance of the committee is desired.

—Washburn's circus arrived in town, early this morning, and pitched its tents on the Grand street grounds. The little elephant attracts much attention.

GIVEN A TIP BY A TRAINMAN.

How Two Men Wanted in Port Jervis for Burglary Escaped the Police.

Shortly after the Orange County Express left, this morning, a telegram was received from Port Jervis stating that a burglary had been committed in that village during the night, and that the robbers were supposed to be on an east bound freight following the Orange county. Capt. Grier and Officer Durham went to Harding street, where the train was stopped, but the men had jumped from the train near the glass works and had disappeared. It is said that when the train crew heard of the telegram at the Summit one of them gave the suspected men a tip to get off the train.

IN THE RAILROAD WORLD.

—The Susquehanna is selling in Paterson ten trip tickets to New York for $2 50, a cut of forty-five cents on the Erie's price which $2 95.

—The Delaware and Lackawanna Railroad has issued orders that hereafter school tickets will be sold only to those children who have a teacher's certificates that they are pupils in some school or academy. Heretofore the tickets were sold to girls and boys who were learning trade or business.

Middletowners at the Cornell Pennsylvania Boat Race.

Several Middletowners are in Philadelphia, to-day, to witness the boat race on the Schuykill River between Cornell University and University of Pennsylvania crews. Messrs. Thos. C. Rogers and Bert Royce are the guests of Mr. Chas. Young, of Camden, N. J., and Messrs. Geo. M. Millspaugh and Fred Rogers rode there on their bicycles.

Odd Fellows' Memorial Services.

Middletown Lodge, I. O. O. F., will hold memorial services in Hillside Cemetery at 2:30 o'clock, Sunday afternoon. Should the day prove stormy the services will be held in the Assembly Rooms. Members of Luther Lodge and all visiting Odd Fellows are cordially invited to meet with Middletown Lodge and assist in the services.

"Teddy" Learning His Business.

"Teddy," the young bull terrier belonging to Eagle Hose Company, is developing into the regulation fire dog. He leads the team whenever they go out of the house and thus clears the way. He is a great pet with the boys.

"Grievance Day."

As will be seen by notice elsewhere the assessors will meet at the City Clerk's office, July 9th, to review their assessments on the application of any person feeling himself aggrieved The assessment roll will be at the Clerk's office until the day of meeting and may be examined by any one interested.

Flag Day Here and Elsewhere.

Flag Day was pretty generally celebrated, yesterday, throughout the country. Middletown, however, did not fully awake to the patriotic spirit of the occasion, and but few flags were raised, among them being several at the State Hospital.

Killed on the Erie Track.

Hugh Donlin, formerly of Newburgh, an employe in the foundry at Hillburn, was struck and killed by an Erie train while crossing the track at that place, last evening.

Mrs. Donlin died only a week ago and her body was brought to Newburgh for burial. A large family of children survives Mr. Donlin.

First Congregational Festival.

The strawberry and ice cream festival on the lawn of the First Congregational Church, last evening, was well attended and all seemed to have a pleasant time. The receipts were entirely satisfactory to the ladies having the affair in charge.

And goddess of the razor.

Some day, with lather on my cheek
(Such is the plan I harbor),
I shall courageously seek
The hand of my fair barber.
But if she has already found
Some man to love and praise her
Her "No" would "cut" me, I'll be bound,

Shall Only the Few Be Saved?

Down on Madison street, between La Salle and Clark streets, a sermon is preached every day and at all hours of the day. Not a sound is uttered, but the words carry a force and effect that are seldom excelled in any of the Chicago pulpits.

The busy surge of humanity often pauses for a moment to hear the mute but eloquent appeal. Men with business suits sometimes drop out of the crowd to linger an instant and calculate with their wonted rapidity the marvelous lesson of a chart. Religiously inclined people hang for minutes musing on the figures, and at times a sigh escapes their lips for the condition of this world. Some take notes.

The text, as it is a sermon, is, "Go forth into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature." It is a plea for missions at the top of a chart with 1,424 squares. Each square is about an inch and represents a million people, all of them together the population of the world. Each religious organization is characterized by a different color. The Protestants number 116,000,000; the Greek church, 84,000,000; the Roman Catholics, 190,000,000; the Jews, 8,000,000; the Mohammedans, 170,000,000, and the heathens the enormous number of 836,000,000. The heathen world is painted suggestively in black.

Right in the center are three white squares. They look lonely and endangered as a little white skiff tossed on the heaving bosom of the dark and stormy sea. Only three small squares out of that vast number to represent the Christian element in this world! And this only the nominal Christians, for three-fourths of one of these squares is red, representing 750,000 professed Christians. All kinds of remarks are made by the people who look.—Chicago News.

The Sole Woman Delegate.

Miss Annie Lincedd was the sole woman delegate among the 50 who attended the fourth annual convention of the National Textile union recently held in Philadelphia. Miss Lincedd is president of the Providence union, No. 42, and master workman of the Knights of Labor assembly, No 4,047, of Providence. She is a cousin of Miss Mary O Reilly, one of the deputy factory inspectors of Pennsylvania, and like her is a student of the labor question and a bright speaker. The National Textile union embraces in its membership all branches of the textile industry, including workers in cotton and gingham mills, lace curtain operatives and square weavers and dyers, and the delegates attending the convention represented 40,000 workers. Mrs. Martha Moore Avery of Boston was one of the speakers.—Philadelphia Item.

Possibilities of Surgery.

The extent to which the human body can be mutilated without causing death is beyond what most people think. Of course the removal of the largest limb is a familiar fact, but the successive removal of all the limbs would in most cases result in nothing worse than inconvenience. In the same way the internal organs may be extirpated. This is facilitated by their quality. One kidney may be removed, and the other will make up for the loss by doing double work. One eye may be taken out and the sight remain practically unimpaired. Large portions of the brain may be removed with no injury to life or intellect. A portion of the intestines has been cut out and the ends sewed together, and their normal action and function have not been interfered with.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Popes and Their Beards.

If we are to believe the old proverb, prophets have always had beards for the faithful to swear by. Not so with the popes. From the time of St. Peter down to the year 1153 the popes all wore full beards, but for the next four centuries they were cleanly shaven. Then came a period of two centuries in which they again wore the beard, but from the year 1700 until the present time the smooth face alone has been seen in the papal line.—St. Louis Republic.

The Radcliffe library has a volume of immense interest to bachelors. It is the work of an unknown author and is entitled "The Art of Governing a Wife, With Sundrie Rules by the Observance of Which She May Be Kept From Usurping the Powers Which Appertain Unto Her Lord and Master."

A spring of marvelously pure water discovered on the farm of ex-Congressman Carlos French, near Seymour, Conn., has been analyzed by Professor Chittenden of Yale college and pronounced to be the purest water yet analyzed in America.

"I like to be near you," said a dear little girl to a sedate woman one day. "Why, Lucy?" [illegible] "Because your eyes are so [illegible] Was the unexpected answer.

A Problem in Wizardry.

We want to know why persons who believe in wizards, or, at all events, consult wizards, nearly always prefer to believe in men or women who are of a race inferior to their own or in circumstances which prove that their occult powers are of no use to themselves. The rule is not invariable, for there have been great wizards like Paracelsus, Roger Bacon, Michael Scott or Cagliostro, who were acknowledged by those who consulted or feared them to be in all ways their superiors, but it is seldom broken. In all the letters on country superstitions which we have published, and the much greater number for which we could find no room, the "wise" man or woman has always gypsy blood or some peculiarity of appearance marking out him or her unfavorably from their kind. The wizard of India is usually a naked savage, while those who resort to him are civilized beings clothed carefully in muslin. The reverence of the whites for the black Obeah man or woman in the West Indies is the subject of countless narratives, especially in the French islands.—London Spectator.

Lavender.

Our fashions are French, but the new color is, as a rule, our own. Last year it was that puzzling pink magenta which Mr. Sargent painted in a lady's silk dress in the New gallery. This color has been revived for 1894, and in a mitigated form, less vayant, with a good deal of the virulence of it reduced, it will be very popular. But still it won't be the color, which is never a revival, but always a novelty. The new color promises to be an aggressive shade of lavender, very sharp, very pronounced, a little crizard, something of the color of a Michaelmas daisy. It again is a color for the brunette, so that we shall probably have dark hair come into fashion.—Westminster Gazette.

An Indian Girl Orator.

At the recent oratorical contest at the Methodist church for the Demorest gold medal the prize was won by Miss Emma Vanderhaden, a young Sioux Indian girl from Sisseton agency. CASTORIA for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr Samuel Pitcher That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing They are facts.

LOVEMAKING BY TELEPHONE.

Pleasant Experiences That Are Sometimes Fraught With Danger.

She had a dainty, delicately nurtured little lisp, and he imagined she was pretty. Their friendship, which had its birthday quite recently, was commenced under circumstances conducive to a display of all the phases of human nature ranging from intense disgust to perfect bliss.

He had been nagging away at central for half an hour, trying to get 4709 Failing in the attempt, he had allowed his temper to get the best of him, and from the depths of a perturbed soul he had uttered words so unpardonable that the wire fairly sizzled as it transmitted them to the "hello" girl at the other end

She was a new girl then, and she did not get mad—bewailed afterward she had—but answered in a voice that his guilty conscience told him was all a-tremble with the throbbing of lacerated heartstrings.

"Oh, now, I they, that ith too bad. I can't help it, you know"

The lisp told on him, and in subdued tones and modified form of speech he ventured to suggest that it might not be amiss for her to tell her name. To his surprise she patched up her wounded feelings enough to answer, "Ahith," and then he succumbed completely to the charm of that musical "th."

From that time he has had no cause to complain of the girl at the central office Every morning he has asked her how he looks, every morning she has answered, 'I can't thee over the 'phone," and every morning he has breathed forth volumes of adoration, to all of which she has lisped back sentences fraught with a similar sentiment.

On the anniversary of their acquaintance he told that he had been a blindfolded worshiper at the shrine of beauty long enough and that he intended to put a stop to that haphazard leaping in the dark that was bound to land him sooner or later either in a gulf of despair or on the Elysian plains of hope realized He wanted to see her.

She chirruped out a few remonstrances, but he overruled them and she arranged the details of the meeting, which was to take place at Jackson and La Salle streets at 12 o'clock They were to wear white roses as a sign of recognition He was there on schedule time She failed to appear. At the end of 15 minutes his brow was bathed in perspiration produced by the billows of doubt and impatience that surged o'er his heart.

At half past 12 some one tapped him on the shoulder, and a heavy bass voice inquired:

"Is this John Smith"

He had never had cause to be ashamed of his cognomen, and he said he was that individual. The owner of the voice was a tall, muscular man, dressed in a cycling suit and russet shoes He wore a white rose.

Intuitively the anxious watcher connected his interlocutor with Alith, and the very marrow in his bones took on a frigid temperature.

"You are the man who has been making love to Alice over the telephone, aren't you" asked the big proprietor-looking stranger.

He stammered

"I've heard of you often Indeed you are about all I have heard of for the last six months and I am getting tired of it. When she told me about this escapade I couldn't stand it any longer I'd have you know I'm engaged to that young lady myself, and it's my bounden duty to see that she is not subjected to any more annoyances from you over that telephone, and if you dare to appoint another place of meeting, by Jove, I'll——"

He paused to consider just what course of action he would pursue in case such a thing should come to pass. The young man exercised his imagination on the same line, and the picture he conjured up was far from reassuring

"I guess you understand me," the foe added significantly.

The young man was so badly frightened to understand much of anything just then, but the look of warning in the other's eyes could not be misconstrued, and he signified his willingness to let the whole matter drop if everybody else connected with the affair was

He dreamed enough That morning he pasted four new rules in the book which is his constant companion. They are:

MELLIN'S FOOD

FOR INFANTS AND INVALIDS.

TRADE [illegible] MARK.

THE ONLY PERFECT

Substitute for Mother's Milk.

Brooklyn, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—We are using Mellin's Food for our 10 months old baby girl, and I doubt if you have a better advertisement for the Food than her rosy cheeks and solid little body. "Baby Irene" is growing splendidly on Mellin's, and if she could express her sentiments, they would be highly commendatory of its efficacy as a producer of health in babies. We shall always take pleasure in recommending the Food to our friends and acquaintances. Yours very truly, J. KALB.

1511 Lexington Ave., New York, N. Y.

Gentlemen.—I commenced giving Mellin's Food to my youngest child, three weeks old. Previous to taking your preparation she had been unable to swallow food of any description, since first taking it she has shown a wonderful improvement and I desire to add my name to the large list of testimonials you already have. Mrs JAMES MCMANUS.

237 Chambers St., New York, N. Y.

Dear Sirs:—Allow me to say a word in favor of Mellin's Food. When our baby was born, the doctor advised feeding it on condensed milk. We did so, and the result was that we did not thrive, and we had to change. We changed to Mellin's Food, and the result is that it has been the making of him, and I cannot say too much in favor of your splendid preparation. Yours truly,

C. E. RICH (Of Wright & Rich).

1066 Bedford Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Dear Sirs:—I have been using your excellent Food for the last year, and cannot say enough for it. I have used other kinds, but finally decided on Mellin's, which proved such a wonderful success that I know it cannot be excelled. My baby, though artificially fed, is a very robust and healthy boy, and his flesh is firmer than most nursing babies. The bone and muscle properties are all that you claim, and although my boy is cutting his tenth tooth, has had no sickness whatever, owing to the health giving and nourishing properties contained in it. It's a blessing to babes. Mrs S. H. CARNAGAN.

AN "ARGUS" MAN OFF DUTY AIMS AT SEVERAL SUBJECTS.

Fond of Fish Hooks—For Anti-Tobacconists—"Honors Are Easy" After Many Years.—Coming Back to His First Love.

Here is a fish story. A party from the State Hospital were fishing for catfish, a day or two ago, when one of them felt a slight pull on his line. He gave a little jerk and, meeting with an unexpected resistance, gave a harder one, which snapped the tip of his rod but brought to the bank a diminutive catfish, four inches in length, a lean, ill-favored specimen, which looked as if it might have been a Coxeyite, if such things as Coxeyites are tolerated in a pond filled with self-respecting catfish. When an attempt was made to take the fish from the hook it was found that it had swallowed both the hooks that were attached to the line. Further examination showed that there was sticking in its jaw a rusted hook to which was attached a piece of line, a yard or so in length, and it was evident that the reason for the difficulty in pulling out the fingerling and the explanation of the broken rod were to be found in the fact that the bit of line, having caught on some obstruction in the pond, the fish had been anchored fast and the fisherman had had to tear him from his moorings. It isn't every five inch catfish that feels equal to three hooks at the same time.

A warning against the dangers of the use of tobacco—by women, is furnished by the sad fate of Elisabeth Lane, a Jersey city widow, who after her post-prandial nap, yesterday, filled her pipe for a smoke, but dropped the match with which she was lighting the pipe and her dress caught fire and she was fatally burned. Mrs. Lane was seventy years old and had smoked for years, but that doesn't alter the fact that it's possible for a woman to smoke one pipe too many.

Benton avenue blocked the electric road with an injunction and now the road has blocked Benton avenue by the bank of earth thrown up from the excavation for its Academy avenue line. Time makes all things even. Let us have peace.

Thirty years ago a young Englishman, whose home was in Troy, was engaged to be married to a young woman who resided in Middletown. A date had been fixed for the wedding and the expectant bridegroom came here to claim his promised bride, but for some reason she was not ready to marry and asked that the marriage be postponed. There was nothing for the man to do but assent, and he returned to his home in Troy, and "he never came back" to Middletown to again claim his bride. Just what was the matter I do not know. Perhaps he tired of waiting for her to get ready to marry him; perhaps she imposed conditions that he did not fulfill; perhaps they quarrelled; each reader can imagine a perhaps to suit himself or herself,—the one essential thing is that, a year or two after his matrimonial errand to Middletown came to naught, the Troy man gave up the Middletown woman and married a woman whose home was in Troy.

Whether the marriage was happy or not, I do not know, and it's of no importance any way so far as this little story is concerned. There would, however, have been no story to write if the wife hadn't died a few months ago and if the thought of the widower in his loneliness hadn't gone back to the Middletown girl, whom he wooed and won but didn't get, so many years ago. He learned, in some way, that she had never married,—women are often more loyal to the memory of old loves than men—and the idea seems to have occurred to the man that perhaps they could begin

THE MANNERCHOR PICNIC

The members of the Middletown Mannerchor Germania are hustling to get their park in readiness for the grand opening, which will occur next Thursday, June 21st. The park, which was formerly known as Miller's Grove, is being greatly improved. A new dancing platform has been built, its area covering a space of 47x47 feet. The floor is of Georgia pine and has been thoroughly oiled and planed.

The grounds have been surrounded by an eight feet high wire fence, and the entrance for vehicles will be by road from East Main street, instead of from the Wisner avenue side as was formerly the custom.

A fine programme of amusements has been arranged for the afternoon and evening of the opening day.

Two gold medals, will be awarded to the members, the first going to the one who sells the greatest number of tickets for the picnic, the other to the member making the highest score on the rifle range.

Music for dancing will be furnished by Berg's orchestra, and the Mannerchor will render several songs during the day and night.

A HORROR-STRICKEN CROWD.

The sight of a child hanging head down from a third story window in a building on Main street, Paterson, caused a panic among those passing, yesterday. A woman who had presence of mind enough to run up stairs to the child's assistance, found that the little one had been kept from falling by its foot catching in the top of a chair standing near the window. The child had been left in the care of an older sister, who had gone out and left it sitting by the open window and, in its eagerness to see what was passing in the street, it had lost its balance and would have fallen from the window had not its foot caught in the chair.

STUCK IN THE MUD.

A Leak in a Water Main Mires a Loaded Ice Wagon.

This morning, about 7 o'clock, the wagon belonging to M. J. M. Crotty, while coming to the city from Mechanicstown with a load of ice, became stalled in front of the Ursuline Convent on East Main street, by reason of one of the wheels sinking to the hubs in a soft part of the road. A leak in the water main was the cause of the soft spot. It was necessary to use whiskey jacks to get the wagon out of the hole.

DEAF, DUMB AND BLIND.

A Sadly Afflicted Boy Learning Many Useful Things.

Mrs. Eugene Benson and son, of Grahamsville, Sullivan county, was the guest of Mrs. D. C. Frist, of Academy avenue, last evening. The son, who is eleven years old, is deaf, dumb and blind, and for the past three years has been in an institution in New York, where he has been taught to read and write and make use of carpenter's tools by the methods used in institutions of that character. He will spend the summer with his mother, returning to the institution in the fall.

THE Z. K. CLUB AT BLOOMINGBURG

Royally Entertained at the Shorter House—A Very Pleasant Outing.

The ladies of the Z. K. Club will long remember the outing at Bloomingburg, for they had a most enjoyable time. Upon their departure from Middletown they were presented with a box of cut flowers from a gentleman friend of the club, and upon their arrival at the Shorter House, now owned by E. A. Schubert, they were presented with a basket of Jack roses from a gentleman friend of the club in Bloomingburg. The day was spent in all kinds of outdoor amusements, including rowing. At 5.30 dinner was served, and the hostess certainly did her best, for the dinner was a very fine one.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature to do its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials. Address,

TELESCOPES.

Points of Difference Between the Reflecting and the Refracting Instruments.

A very pretty little experiment, which illustrates the two methods of forming an optical image and by way of corollary illustrates the essential difference between refracting and reflecting telescopes, may be performed by any one who possesses a reading glass and a magnifying hand mirror. In a room that is not too brightly illuminated pin a sheet of white paper on the wall opposite to a window that by preference should face the north or away from the position of the sun. Taking first the reading glass, hold it between the window and the wall parallel to the sheet of paper and a foot or more distant from the latter. By moving it to and fro a little you will be able to find a distance corresponding to the focal length of the lens, at which a picture of the window is formed on the paper. This picture, or image, will be upside down because the rays of light cross at the focus. By moving the glass a little closer to the wall you will cause the picture of the window to become indistinct, while a beautiful image of the houses, trees or other objects of the outdoor world beyond will be formed upon the paper. We thus learn that the distance of the image from the lens varies with the distance of the object whose image is formed. In precisely a similar manner an image is formed at the focus of the object glass of a refracting telescope.

Take next your magnifying or concave mirror, and detaching the sheet of paper from the wall hold it nearly in front of the mirror between the latter and the window. When you have adjusted the distance to the focal length of the mirror, you will see an image of the window projected on the paper. By varying the distance as before you will be able to produce as well pictures of nearer or more remote objects. It is in this way that images are formed at the focus of the mirror of a reflecting telescope.—Garrett P. Service in Popular Science Monthly.

THIS TELLS THE STORY.

FROM ATLANTIC TO PACIFIC

Praises Come, Unlimited, Heralding the Success of One Woman's Work.

(SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.)

From all sections of this great country. No city so large, no village so small, but that some woman has sent us her words of joyful thanks for health restored.

From San Francisco Mrs. Detwiler writes, from her Laurel Ave. home, that she unwisely left her room all too soon, when her baby was born.

The result was an aggravated case of displacement of the womb that wholly prostrated her.

The doctors tried medicines, apparatus, and she suffered everything.

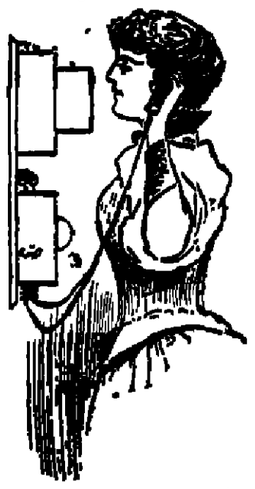
"I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The effect was wonderful, and, thanks alone to her, I am now well."

Mrs. Kate Morris, 100 Mulberry St., New York, says:—

"For years I suffered with womb trouble. I was so sick and nervous that I could not stand or sit, the pains through my back made me crazy. I tried several doctors but found no relief. I was advised to try your Vegetable Compound. I did, and to-day I am a well woman."

From far-away Texas comes word from Mrs. Jennie Arthur of the town of Taylor:

"I did not know what rest was for months. I was so dizzy and faint at times I thought I was dying, and, oh, how my back did ache! I am a living witness of the miraculous effects of Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Relief came with it at once. I sleep all night, and am now as well as ever in my life."



From the great state of Pennsylvania, Mrs. L. Travis, of Thurlow, tells a similar story of utter misery resulting from womb trouble; all the fearful results of this dread trouble was upon her when the Lydia Pinkham Vegetable Compound came to change the whole current of her life, and she ends up her letter by declaring: "I owe all to you." Thousands of other names are here. Let your faith lead you to the certain remedy for all your troubles. Your druggist has it for you.
